

THE WORLD AT LARGE

Items From Home and Abroad, Gathered From Many Sources

Twice-a-Week Democrat: Members of the West Tennessee Land Company, owners of Reelfoot Lake, over the fighting rights in which the night riders murdered Captain Quintin Rankin last fall, appeared before the Reelfoot Lake Investigation committee of the Tennessee Legislature, Friday, said they would accept less than $75,000 for the property, provided the State would make it a hunting and fishing preserve. J. G. Burdick, lessee of the fishing privileges, said his associates would accept $10,000 for their rights, and that the entire rights and property could be had for $75,000. Mr. Burdick said the State should take the property to rid that community of outlaws, which, he says, have infested the section since the Ku-Klux clan was organized in 1865.

Dunklin Democrat: A number of lawyers, members of the general assembly, say that the temperance forces are absolutely powerless to force the submission of a prohibition amendment to the state constitution through the initiative and referendum if the legislature fails to submit the question, owing to the fact that no enabling act making the law operative has been passed by the legislature. Representative Hawkins, one of the lawyer members of the house, takes this view. The enabling act feature is said the zeal with which the prohibitionists are working to get the question submitted.

The Mississippi River Commission left St. Louis Thursday for its semi-annual tour of inspection of the river and government work from St. Louis to New Orleans. Stops will be made at all points long enough to allow delegations of citizens to present their claims for any particular locality to the commission. The government appropriation for rivers and harbors which this commission allots, amounts to $2,000,000. The territory included in this distribution extends from Cairo, Ill., the mouth of the Ohio river, to the Gulf of Mexico.

The Missouri senate places "gun toilers" among the list of felonies, and declares for a two year prison term as a penalty for carrying concealed weapons. The lower house of the legislature is not expected to view the matter more leniently, so the state is quite certain to soon have adequate protection against the pistol-carrying habit, so prolific of crime in every degree. Not every man who carries a revolver is a criminal, but a great majority are very foolish.

Hornet: There is a newspaper solicitor by the name of Taylor that has worked several of the local papers in Southeast Missouri. Taylor is a fine subscription solicitor, but he lets old "boozers" get the best of him. He was sent out recently by a Cape Girardeau paper to solicit subscribers and Taylor had fine success, but when he landed in Altonville, where open saloons are run, he soon spent all his money, or the publisher's money—and then, it is said, the Cape paper claimed he was not its agent.

Representative Spence of Stoddard county has introduced a bill in the House like Senator Wilson's in the Senate, prohibiting any dealer in pistols, revolvers, bowieknives, metal knucks, etc., from exhibiting such wares in show cases or show windows. We believe the bill is a good one and that it ought to become a law.

Twice-a-Week Democrat: James W. McClanahan left yesterday morning for Schurz, Nev., in response to a letter from James R. Moore telling him that their mine is all that is claimed for it. Reports from there are most flattering, and the indications are that Pemiscot will have a few millionaires yet.

Backward, turn backward! O time in your flight, feed me on grief just for tonight! I am tired of sole leather steak, petrified bison and galvanized cake, oysters that sleep in a watery bath, and butter as strong as Goliath of Gath. Weary of paying for what I can't eat, chewing up rubber and eating it meat. Backward, turn backward, how weary I am, just give me a swipe of grandmother's jam; let me drink milk that hasn't been skimmed; let me eat butter whose whiskers are trimmed; let me once more have an old-fashioned pie; then I am ready to curl up and die.

An exchange remarks that it has no enemies. A newspaper without enemies is not of much force in the world. Ever successful man has "knockers" succeeding on their trail. The newspaper that dares not express an honest opinion for fear it will offend some party boss or an "old subscriber," does not amount to much.

There is always room at the top. That's the great trouble. There's such a great rush to get there that a pauper ensues and many a poor devil who could have gotten up safely alone has been pushed aside and trampled by others. Ex.

The cases against Gov. Haskell and six others charged with land frauds, were quashed at Tulsa, Okla., the 10th, the Judge deciding that the cases were instituted by Roosevelt for the purpose of persecution.
